What can we offer our partnership schools	Norfolk Teacher Training Centre (NTTC) is a 'Good' provider (Ofsted 2023) of Teacher Training. We started in 2014 and offer three main routes into teaching, School Direct fee-paying Assessment Only and the Post Graduate Teacher Apprenticeship. We have a wide range of partnership schools, (50+) including Special Educational needs in Norfolk and Suffolk, many who have worked with us since 2014. We have a proven track record, with many of our Alumni working in our partnership schools developing as great teachers, subject leads and future managers. In 2023, 100% of our trainees achieved QTS, including 100% passing the Level 6 Apprenticeship. 100% secured ECT roles by the end of the course, with 98% being in local schools. We train around 55 trainees, including around 23 Apprentices each year. Our Apprenticeship route allows providers to develop colleagues in schools who show potential to be great teachers. The route has also supported schools who find it harder to recruit. Our Assessment Only route offers experienced unqualified teachers in schools the opportunity to achieve QTS, whilst still working. Our values are that we provide trainees who are well qualified, dedicated, creative and flexible. We use evidence-based approaches to teaching, are optimistic and professional, to ensure that the pupils they teach have the best education and opportunities. Pupils are the core of everything we do and our course will enable our trainees to work alongside mentors in schools developing their skills, knowledge and expertise to ensure they are great Early Career teachers, ready to embrace the important role of a teacher. As a local provider we can work with our community to ensure we have inspirational high-quality teachers who want to stay working in our partnership schools.

We pride ourselves as a close-knit team on the friendly, working relationships we have with our schools. We aim to deliver high-quality teacher training for local schools and support the development of their mentors to ensure that they are confident in the role. Colleagues from our partnership schools support the development of our programme, deliver centre-based provision and support placement-based training. We have two lead schools; Nelson Infant school and Sheringham Academy, who are members of our Governance and work with us to ensure our courses are research-based and relevant.

Schools who work with NTTC benefit from:

- Strong and resilient teachers, including mature ambitious career changers.
- Trainees who stay in the area immersing themselves in school life from the start of the course, who learn on the job and engage fully in everything a school has to offer. They become professionally qualified ECTs with a clear understanding of the role of a teacher.
- A strong and experienced ITT provider team who have many years of experience of teaching in schools and of initial teacher training.
- Good trainee recruitment and retention, particularly through the apprenticeship route. NTTC was in the top 20% of providers in 2023 for trainees who are still teaching after 16 months.
- Opportunities for teachers to develop as mentors, through our mentor training which gives them the knowledge and skills to be confident in their role. We work closely with the Julian Teaching School Hub to ensure mentor training is of a high quality. Our mentors ensure that centre-based learning is applied whilst on placement and share their expertise with trainees by modelling best practice. Our mentor training is online to ensure we reduce the impact on schools.
- Our drive to ensure that we consider the mental health and wellbeing of our trainees and mentors in all we do.
